WITH THE FARMERS

Farm Bureau Official Information

BADGER CRANBERRY CROP, 55,000 BBLs.

About One-Fourth of Total Production in United States Swamps.

Madison—Wisconsin's annual production of cranberries will make 7,000,000 pints, says J. D. Jones, Jr., state commissioner of agriculture. It is estimated for the state department of agriculture that the 1923 crop of cranberries for the entire nation was 55,000 barrels, of which Wisconsin produced 55,000 barrels. Production this year will be somewhat smaller, it is said, because of heavy frosts in September. The amount of land suited to cranberry raising is very limited. "Commercial" Jones stated. This fruit flourishes best in the localities where the climate is cool and on bogs situated so as to receive water for flooding purposes at critical periods. In Wisconsin, about 2,700 acres are devoted to cranberry production, although extensive areas state, with Jackson, Waushara, Monroe, and Juneau counties following. The culture and harvesting of cranberries has become an extensive industry in Wisconsin. It is stated.

ALASKA SEEKING TRADE BALANCE

Anchorage, Alaska—Alaska used to buy all its manufactured articles in the United States, depending for commercial existence solely on its ores and placer gold, fisheries and furs. Now the vast territory is turning its attention to industrial enterprises, with a view of cutting down imports and increasing exports.

Cooperative Scheme Hits German Food Profiters

Frankfort-on-the-Oder—The profiteering middlemen dealing in foodstuffs have been dealt a hard blow by the cooperative efforts of a committee representing city and labor officials and a committee of the industrial or farmers' organization. Under the new scheme certain quantities of potatoes and meats are delivered weekly at fixed prices and distributed through municipal authorities. The result has been that the city workers and farmers have eliminated the middlemen.

Blocks of Harding Memorial Stamps Sought for Framing

Washington—Blocks of unperfected Harding memorial stamps, in any number up to 400, were placed on sale recently at the Government Philatelic agency here. Owing to the demand from collectors, members of congress and others who desired the unperfected stamps for collection purposes, Postmaster General New gave orders for the preparation of the stamps without perforations. Many of the requests were based on a desire to obtain the stamps in that shape for the purpose of framing in memory of the late president.

FEW CHANGES IN RETAIL PRICES

Oranges Are Somewhat Cheaper as Supply Becomes More Plentiful.

Practically no changes in retail prices have taken place during the week, except that there is a slight reduction in oranges, which are becoming more plentiful. The Florida fruit is now on the market, as well as Florida grapefruit.

Fruit is now selling as follows: Apples, 5 to 10c per pound, according to variety; oranges, 20 to 30c; lemons, 40c; bananas, 12c; grapefruit, 5c to 4 for 25c; California grapes, 15c; and cranberries, 12 1/2 to 15c.

Among the vegetables, recently placed on the market, New Jersey sweet potatoes are worth 8 to 10c per pound. Many of the items, secured especially for the Thanksgiving holiday trade, are now unavailable. Fresh vegetables now in demand are: Cucumbers, 25c each; beans, 15c; radishes, 10c bunch; pumpkins, 15c each; squash, 10c each; cabbage, 25c to 30c; celery, 15c bunch; turnips, 4c bunch; rutabagas, 4c bunch; potatoes, 25c peck; carrots, 5c; onions, 5c bunch; head lettuce, 15c each; cauliflower, 20 to 30c; a 5c reduction since last week; and peppers, 2 for 5c.

Butter and egg prices remain the same as last week, with the former selling at 52 to 55c. Fresh eggs are 55c and cold storage, 58c.

Only 20 Percent of Quota Raised for Red Cross

Less than 20 per cent of Janesville's quota in the Red Cross membership campaign was secured during the nearly three weeks it has been on. The total amount collected is $1,122.

Two factories of the city have signified their intention to collect among employees, and many others, as well as large stores, will also do so, as many have not been reached by the 3,000 letters mailed. A greater share of those to whom letters were mailed have not been heard from. There are 3,138 now out.

Following are subscriptions since last announced: Otto Blumreich family, Mrs. W. A. Douglas family, Mrs. Mary Hopkins family $5.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Francis, Dr. and Mrs. T. C. Hartman, E. M. and Mrs. William A. Read, $2. Mrs. Anna B. Baker, Mrs. P. J. Bick, J. J. Cunningham, James A. Paterson, Alice Glenn, George G. Hill, $1.

Ford Trucks Are Bought On Performance Records

If you were to ask a hundred or a thousand Ford truck owners why they use Ford trucks, in preference to all others, they would likely say, "Because the Ford stands up."

They know that under the endless grind of daily service the Ford stays on the job month in and month out, with very little mechanical care, and with practically no expense for repairs or replacements.

They would emphasize the work this truck does, not its initial cost.

Ford Trucks can be bought through the Ford Weekly Purchase Plan.

New Liquid Whitens Yellow Teeth!

No more dull, yellowish teeth! No more teeth stained by tobacco or other discolored substances. For a marvelous new liquid has been perfected which—in just three minutes—gives even the duldest teeth a wonderful new whiteness and sparkle. This new safe liquid, called Blochodent, is the discovery of a prominent dentist. You just apply it to the teeth, and they quickly take on a marvelous brilliance—a pearly whiteness. For Blochodent contains certain harmless ingredients which actually erode or dissolve the stains on teeth—so that every unsightly blemish may be instantly removed by an ordinary tooth brush. Even after the first few applications your teeth will be so pearly white—so charmingly bright and lustrous—that they will be the admiration of all your friends.

Blochodent is absolutely safe as it acts only on surface stains—not on enamel itself. Plus for the gums. Get Blochodent today if you want a new white teeth. Full size bottle only a few cents. Money back if not delighted. Sold and guaranteed by all leading drug and department stores such as McCue & Buss Drug Co., Smith's Drug Co., and Groves Pharmacy, J. E. Felt, People's Drug Co., etc.

	Number List Price
A Kiss in the Dark (from "Orange Blossoms") (de Sylva-Herbert)	Amelita Galli-Curci 959 $1.50
Kiss Me Again (from "Mile Modiste") (Blossom-Herbert)	Amelita Galli-Curci
Letter Song (from "Apple Blossoms") (Fitzgerald)	Hugo Kreiser 956 1.50
I'm in Love (from "Apple Blossoms")	Hugo Kreiser
These two charming numbers for the violoncello are taken from Fritz Kreiser's music to "Apple Blossoms." Fritz Kreiser himself plays the accompaniments at the piano.
Melodious Instrumental
Turkey in the Straw (Piaffe Duet) (Henry C. Gilliland-A. C. (Eck) Robertson)	19149 .75
Ragtime Annie (Violin Solo) (A. C. (Eck) Robertson)
Two old-fashioned dance numbers by genuine cowboy fiddlers. There is genuine American, not hybrid, music. You will find such musicians, today, only in out-of-the-way places.
Light Vocal Selections
By the Watermelon Vine (Shannon Quartet)	19142 .75
Louisiana Lou (Shannon Quartet)
Many people like these male quartets in "close-harmonized" Southern style. Both sung with beautiful smoothness and harmonic sense, to the full orchestra.
I'm Sitting Pretty in a Pretty Little City (Albert Campbell-Henry Burr)	19180 .75
Alabama Blacksheep (Peerless Quartet)
If you have a liking for sentimental music, in fox trot time, with two tenors, with a big orchestra and heavy piano-work, this duet will captivate you. "Alabama Blacksheep" adds two more singers, and does it again.
You Can't Make a Fool Out of Me (Henry Burr)	19181 .75
Fal of My Dreams (Charles Hart)
There are dramatic touches in these two songs of commonplace life for the tenor voice with the orchestra. They are two of the greatest achievements of these artists.
Dance Records
Sleep—Waltz (The West, a Nest, and You—Waltz) (Pennsylvania)	19172 .75
First Victor record by the famous touring orchestra grown from a Pennsylvania State College dance quartet. "Sleep" is highly original, with a vocal chorus. "The West, a Nest, and You" is an excellent companion.
Remem'ring—Fox Trot (Joe Raymond and His Orchestra)	19178 .75
Salt Your Sugar—Fox Trot (from "Topsy and Eva")
"Remem'ring" is a pleasant fox trot, agreeable to dance to. The Duncan Sisters wrote it—you will hear a reminiscence of childhood play. "Salt Your Sugar" is another excellent fox trot.
Moonlight Kisses—Fox Trot (Joe Raymond and His Orch.)	19179 .75
Music of Love—Fox Trot (International Novelty Orchestra)
These numbers have exceedingly romantic titles, but they are wholesome, jolly numbers, free of overstrained sentiment. "Moonlight Kisses" uses a plaintive type of refrain, but also where it is full of life. "Music of Love" is finely scored.

NICKEL ARRESTED FOR THIRD TIME

Fulton Woman Says "40 or 50 Bootleggers in Edgerton."

Adolph Nickel, operator of a soft drink establishment at 51 South River street, was arraigned in municipal court for the third time Friday on another liquor possession charge. He is already out on $2,500 for two previous liquor cases that have not been disposed of so new bail was required. His hearing on case No. 3 is set for Monday.

Nickel's arrest was a raid made by Officers Handy, Ward and O'Leary on his establishment at 5 a. m. Thanksgiving day when a glass of alleged liquor was found.

"There are 40 to 50 bootleggers in Edgerton," Mrs. Hjalmer Orbeck, Fulton, told the court when her husband was arraigned for intoxication. "My husband is drunk almost continuously from the day I married him, and he's not a fit man for a woman to live with."

Mrs. Orbeck gave the court the names of 40 alleged bootleggers in Edgerton. One name was given the limit, 60 days flat, $100 and costs or six months additional. He said he got his liquor from two Madison men who sold it out of a car down town.

David Weir was arraigned for an alleged assault on Martha Topp last February and his hearing was set for Dec. 21, with bail at $100.

Need of Danger Signs Is Seen

Blinded by large flakes of soggy snow, the driver of an unknown automobile plunged his machine off the Evansville concrete road into a ditch at the "four mile curve" Thursday night. No one was hurt.

The motorist is quoted as saying that, because there is no warning at the curve, he did not know the course of the road changed until his car careened from it. The escape of the party is reported as miraculous, for the car barely missed hitting a pole.

Several cars stopped to give aid. Conversation dwelt on expression of hope that the county highway department would soon take large, diamond shaped "black and white" danger boards and also red danger signals would be installed.

OBITUARY

William H. Kane, Rockford, Illinois, died at 7 a. m., Friday, at St. Anthony's hospital, Rockford, after an illness of 21 months. His wife preceded him in death six years ago.

Mr. Kane is survived by three brothers and three sisters, some of whom reside in this city.

The body will be brought to Janesville at 5:30 Saturday morning for the funeral mass at St. Patrick's church, to be followed by burial in Mt. Olivet cemetery.

Miss Mary Catherine Davis, Edgerton.

Edgerton—Miss Mary Catherine Davis, a resident of Edgerton for 60 years, died at her home here at 4 p. m. Friday of heart trouble. Miss Davis was 86 years of age, being born at Edgerton, N. Y., May 13, 1837. She moved to Janesville with her parents in 1855, residing there but a few years before moving here, where she has since lived.

Miss Davis was a member of the Methodist church. The only survivor of a large family, she was the daughter of a farmer. Her husband, John Davis, died in 1895. She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. M. E. Carpenter, and a son, Mr. J. E. Davis, both of Edgerton.

Funeral services will be held at the home at 2:30 Sunday, Dec. 2, at 11 a. m. at the Methodist church, officiating.

Festivities of Holiday Attract Large Numbers

Thanksgiving day, 1923, is but a memory. It passed off with mid-night Thursday after sitting observance by Janesville's population both here and out of town. Family reunions around splendid Thanksgiving dinners and the drizzling rain crowds from here were attracted to other cities to football games and theater parties. Janesville was well represented at the football games at Oshkosh, Milwaukee and Rockford. Theaters were crowded and the Frolicmen's dance Thanksgiving eve brought out the largest crowd of the year. Students from nearby colleges and men and women employed out of the city were home for the day.

Throughout the work of charitable organizations, so far as known, not a mouth in any Janesville family was without a Thanksgiving dinner. Baskets were distributed to more than 25 families.

Doctors' orders were forgotten at Mercy hospital and patients were served turkey dinners with all the trimmings. Men prisoners at the jail were served goose dinners. Chicken dinners were served at the poor farm and a turkey dinner was spread at the state school for the blind.

It was a peaceful holiday. Not a disturbance, fire, or accident in the city was reported.

CUSTER INVOLVED IN DIVORCE SUIT

Emilinus J. Custer, formerly a Janesville shoe salesman who resided at 163 Locust street, with a wife and two children, is out on $1,500 bail after arraignment before Judge H. L. Maxwell in the Rock county municipal court, Friday, on a charge of desertion and non-support, on a complaint sworn to by his wife, Elizabeth. Custer's hearing has been set for Monday morning.

In the Rock county court has been entered the complaint of Albert Oestreich, Janesville, who seeks a divorce from his wife, Elizabeth, naming Custer as the man who broke up his home. Oestreich charges that his wife deserted him four months ago, leaving home supposedly to go to Chicago, but that she met Custer. Working in Auto Plant.

Custer was brought back to Janesville Thursday by Patrolman William Ford, who made the trip to Detroit, Mich., where the former Janesville man was found by the Detroit detective bureau. He was working in an automobile plant. Janesville police were unable to elicit any information from questioning Custer concerning the "other woman."

It is asserted that a letter written by Mrs. Oestreich from Detroit, Mich., led to Custer's apprehension. Oestreich married 5 years.

The complaint in the divorce bill sets forth that Albert Oestreich and his wife Elizabeth were married June 24, 1918 at Rock Valley, Ia., and later moved to Marquette, N. D., coming to Janesville in March, 1922. Before the plaintiff and defendant resided until four months ago the defendant left the plaintiff's home with a man whose name is Sebastian Carpenter. In the allegation made in the complaint is not that of the man held on the non-support and desertion charge, the man is later identified as the shoe salesman, which is the former occupation of Emilinus Custer.

Had Frequent Meetings.

Statutory charges are made against his wife and Custer by Oestreich in the complaint. He declares that a short time after their arrival in the city, Mrs. Oestreich became acquainted with Custer, and they made every opportunity to be together alone.

It is charged that Mrs. Oestreich was in the shoe store where Custer was employed every day or two for the purpose of being fitted with shoes and would have no one else wait on her, but Custer, but she never bought any shoes. It is alleged.

"The defendant and Custer were continuously conferring over the telephone arranging times and places of meetings," in the allegation made in the complaint by Oestreich who claims he did not learn of their meetings until after his wife had left town.

Woman Still Missing.

About July 1, 1923, the complaint states, the plaintiff gave the defendant $50 to go to Chicago supposedly, that he left the following day on receipt of the money and met Custer at the St. Paul depot and Custer bought tickets to Milwaukee for the

CHRISTMAS SEAL SALE IS OPENED

Rev. Henry Willmann Is Again
Directing Local Campaign.

Janesville has been allotted a generous portion of the 27,000,000 little red and green penny Christmas seals sent out to 250 communities of the state by the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association headquarters in Milwaukee. Several millions have been kept for sale in Milwaukee and for extra requests.

The Rev. Henry Willmann will again manage the sale in Janesville. The sale opened Thursday, Thanksgiving day, and will continue through Christmas. Stamps will be mailed to hundreds of citizens here in the rural districts, the schools are selling centers and a considerable part of the fund for fighting tuberculosis in Wisconsin is raised each year by the nearly 7,000 one-room rural and graded schools in the state.

"Everyone knows what the little Christmas seal means and the fine work it is doing in the fight against tuberculosis, the disease which kills annually more people in the United States alone than were killed in the Japanese disaster this year," declared the Rev. Mr. Willmann. "Some people will show their interest in contributions of dollars while others will be able to do so only in pennies."

Wisconsin and the Republican National Convention.

No other state in the union could, perhaps, confront such a situation as does Wisconsin over the selection of delegates to the republican national convention. There is involved a question of jurisdiction of the convention which has never heretofore been faced. Wisconsin, in its primary law, provides for the election of four delegates at large to the national convention and two delegates from each of the congressional districts. It so happens that the republican national committee, under a new apportionment, has given the state two added delegates. This new apportionment to the convention has been threatened for many years. It was done to give these states with large republican votes, proper representation and to bring to an end the scandal of the heavy representation from the south which cast so few actual republican votes as to be negligible in the election results. By this reapportionment the republican voters of the nation will have a larger voice in the convention. There has never been a question as to the right of the committee or the national convention to determine the eligibility of its membership; the legal right also to determine for itself the number and qualifications of the delegates has not been questioned. A national convention is not a creature of statutory law. It has no governmental status at all in fact. It is self ruled and a thing apart from the legal power of any state to control. While it is a quasi public institution, made so by long years of precedent and recognition, it still remains quasi.

But Wisconsin says in its statutes, that the convention is a legal one, recognizable in law and a subject for legislative enactment. The state sets itself up to determine the number of delegates the party shall be permitted to have. Wisconsin is to be allowed 28 delegates and when the roll is called that is the number that will be mentioned by the secretary of the convention. But the state can actually have only 26 under the Wisconsin law. The Madison government says that is all that will be permitted, and if more than four delegates are voted for the ballot, under the official construction of the law, they will be thrown out.

Wisconsin should have its full quota in the republican national convention. Whether these delegates be for Robert M. La Follette or some one else, is not so great a matter as that the state is given full justice. It may be true that the secretary of state, complying with the law, will not certify more than four delegates at large, but there is nothing that will hinder the republicans of the state from getting together and adding two more by conference or convention. It may be held by the strict sticklers for the law that this is illegal in Wisconsin, but so it also may be held to be illegal to deprive the state of two delegates which have been apportioned it by the national committee.

The settlement of the question is not a factional matter nor is it a matter entirely within the scope of the state law. There is an external determination with which to deal and that is the national committee and the committee on credentials of the convention.

Uncle Hiram Taversack says this intervals business must be flourishing since so many people work at it.

Where Will Germany's New Currency Land Her?

Germany is issuing a new currency, the rentenmark, with the same restrictions as are placed about the gold loan currency. Rentenmark credits cannot be granted to anyone abroad without the consent of the Reichsbank. It is also forbidden to sell any of the rentenmarks abroad. There is evident hope that the legislative restrictions will prevent the scandalous sale of marks which have been so valuable to both speculators and the government in the past few years. It has enabled both to realize on some billion dollars in worthless paper. The government intends to maintain the new mark at the parity with the American dollar through the gold reserve of the nation. Dollar accounts have been opened at the Reichsbank and the dollar will hereafter be the basis of exchange and foundation of currency value.

There is no possibility of the government redeeming the paper marks which have been issued. There are so many of them in terms of numbers that the human mind is unable to grasp the final sum or to count the vastness of the void which they represent. It is to be noted that the Austrian republic has been going up and down with its new financial policy now controlled by a foreigner and that the krona, billions of which had been issued, is no longer bothering the people. It has been repudiated and a new and well-organized system of currency has made a different Austria.

Germany may eventually find that it will be necessary to call in outside aid in rearranging her currency and establishing something like a stable condition. Unless she does, the rentenmark will meet the same fate of the old mark.

What Europe wants of the United States is an enormous sum of money loaned to its governments without interest and with no date for payment. It would make them happy as long as it lasted. In that way we could carry out the Utopian plan that "We must aid Europe." Even Gray Silver, representative of the Farm Bureau in Washington, is anxious that we make a large

DEALING DEATH TO MOSQUITOES

By FREDERICK J. HASKIN.
Washington.—The open season for mosquitoes is now at its height along the eastern coast. Urged by the public health authorities, citizens are shouldering their swatters and oil cans and tracking mosquitoes to their winter resorts, where, enfeebled by drowsiness, they may easily be slaughtered. Those persons who can not be prevailed upon to scour the woods for mosquitoes are being asked at least to search their premises for any colonies that may be hibernating in the cellar or in the back yard.

Heretofore, the extermination of mosquitoes has been left entirely to the public health authorities, but this year a special appeal for cooperation is made to householders because recent investigation has shown that there is much they can do to help.

When the mother mosquitoes get ready to hibernate for the winter, they seek a dark and secluded spot, such as a hollow tree, the moist, under side of a fallen log—or somebody's cellar. As soon as the warm spring weather comes, they flutter briskly to life and dash forth to deposit their small cylindrical eggs in boat-shaped masses on the surface of the nearest stagnant water.

Marshes are favorite breeding places, and quiet pools and ponds, but millions of mosquito offspring may readily be produced in a barrel of rainwater or even an uncovered bucket. Tin cans strewn about a trash pile and allowed to fill with rainwater also offer excellent nursery facilities for mosquito infants. By removing all such tempting abodes and by swatting at sight every tiny, light-brown flying object, everyone can aid in subduing this insect enemy.

The mosquito is not only the most irritating of all the insect hordes that molest us, but it is also one of the most costly. A New Jersey commission recently figured that mosquitoes were holding up that state's development to the extent of $500,000,000 and advised the appropriation of $1,000,000 to exterminate them. As it is, it costs the New Jersey annually appropriate hundreds of thousands of dollars for extermination work. Other mosquito-infested states—namely Florida and the Gulf states and New York's Long Island—also spend large sums of money every year in attempting to rid themselves of this insect pest, which, they claim, is inflicting land values.

The extermination work is carried on in various ways. While oil is generally considered to be the most effective exterminator and has been used with great success on the salt marshes of New Jersey, some states, such as Florida, where large winter areas surround practically every community, have had to seek less drastic remedies. At present Florida is trying out a method at most, which has met with spectacular success in Texas.

Ten years ago, certain areas of Texas, particularly San Antonio and its environs, were hopelessly infested with mosquitoes. Malaria was as common as a cold. Today, Texas is largely free of mosquitoes; malaria has practically disappeared, and these happy results were brought about by that commonly despised creature—the bat.

The first bat roost was established in the south-west section of San Antonio, where the population was almost solely Mexican. The houses were without screens, and in the summer the people slept out of doors under brush arbors. Naturally, the mosquitoes took full advantage of their opportunities. As soon as the colony of bats was introduced the benefit became apparent. The number of malaria cases rapidly diminished until eventually the disease was wiped out. After a short trial of the experiment, the city was so impressed that it imposed a fine of $2 on any person convicted of killing a bat.

Additional bat roosts then were erected by the state at the Southwestern Insane asylum, just outside of San Antonio, and on the campus of the West Texas Military academy in the Alamo Heights section. As a result, large areas were freed of mosquitoes.

Credit for the discovery of this cheap and effective method belongs to Dr. Charles A. R. Campbell of San Antonio, a specialist in malaria and typhoid, who has become known as "the apostle of the bat roost." He made his first experiment early in 1911 by erecting a bat roost in the Mitchell lake district, 10 miles from San Antonio. As this lake receives the sewage from San Antonio, it is enormously attractive to mosquitoes. For years, they had held almost complete possession of the district, rendering it uninhabitable to humans.

But the bats in Dr. Campbell's bat roost enjoyed themselves immensely. After they had developed in sufficient numbers to cope with the mosquito hordes, these pests were practically wiped out, the region became healthful and the cattle settled down to quiet grazing in pastures. In short, the experiment was such an unqualified success that the city of San Antonio made the bat roost a permanent feature of its public health work, and other cities followed suit.

Dr. Campbell's attention was directed toward the bat as an antimosquito agent because it is immune to the poisonous bite of the mosquito. Bats never contract malaria. This immunity, he believes, is due to the size of its spleen. It is convinced that the spleen, the use of which has long been a mystery to the medical fraternity, was developed in the human body as a defensive agency against malaria.

Besides this valuable immunity, the bat's habits happily coincide with those of the mosquito, which greatly increases the strength of its opposition. Like the mosquito, it rests in the daytime and makes its forays for food at night, and it also hibernates through the winter, so that it is capable of surviving in a cold climate. One of the interesting discoveries Dr. Campbell has made concerning bats is their striking antipathy to loud and penetrating noises. Jazz music, for example, is especially abhorrent to them, and they can not endure the sound of a jazz record played on a phonograph. This dislike is useful, for it can be relied upon to rid the premises of bats whenever it becomes necessary to do so. When driven away by an inharmonious serenade, declares this expert, they never return.

The bat is not the only natural enemy of the mosquito to prove useful in its elimination. There is Gambusia Affinis, for instance, commonly known as the "top minnow," which has been introduced by the United States government in various sections with great success.

Who's Who Today

HENRY OSSAWA TANNER.

The brilliant work of Henry Ossawa Tanner, dean of American artists in Paris, has just been recognized by the French government in the awarding of the medal of the legion of honour to this painter.

Tanner has been a member of the American colony in Paris many years. "To is a native of Pittsburgh and was born June 21, 1859. He studied in the Pennsylvania Academy of fine arts under and later was a pupil of Jean Thomas Eakins, Paul Laurens and Benjamin Constant in Paris.

He specializes in religious subjects and as early as 1886, drew attention in the Salon with his work. The following year he was awarded a medal for one of his offerings.

Since then he has won many distinctions, including the Walter Lippincott prize in Philadelphia, the Harris prize in Chicago, and medals at the Buffalo, St. Louis and San Francisco expositions. He is represented in the Luxembourg, the Vienna collection, Carnegie Institute, Academy of Fine Arts in Philadelphia, and Chicago art institute.

He gave the Red Cross eighteen months of his services in France during the world war.

LOOKING BACKWARD

FORTY YEARS AGO

Nov. 30, 1883.—The women of the free library association are holding a meeting this afternoon to make preliminary arrangements to turn the library over to the custody of the city.

Walter Billie was awarded the prize for being the most graceful skater, yesterday in the weekly skating contest.

THIRTY YEARS AGO

Nov. 30, 1893.—Rev. Dr. Hodge delivered the Thanksgiving sermon in the combined congregations of five churches at the Baptist church yesterday, speaking on "What We Have to Be Thankful for in This Columbian Year." Average size turkeys are worth about 90c each.

TWENTY YEARS AGO

Nov. 30, 1903.—The joint district schools of La Prairie and Rock taught by Mrs. Cecile Munger, gave an elaborate Thanksgiving program. An address by Supt. Antelme was also on the program.—The old post office in the Lovejoy will be remodeled and occupied by a store.

TEN YEARS AGO

Nov. 30, 1913.—Allen Dearborn and Raymond Barnes entertained 40 couples at a dancing party last night, at which the new hesitation waltz was introduced here for the first time.—Mrs. Ada P. Kimberley has been appointed on the committee of historical research by the Daughters of the American Revolution.

Personal Health Service

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

THE HEALING OF ULCER
Everybody tries it at one time or another. An ulcer is an open sore or raw place which is left on the skin or the lining mucous membrane after the loss of substance from the surface. It has nothing to do with cancer or tumor, though cancer sometimes develops in the site of an old ulcer, such as an unhealed varicose ulcer on the leg or a gastric ulcer (in the stomach).

Persons with varicose veins in the legs are more likely to have ulcers because the skin and underlying tissues get poor nourishment when the valves are enlarged and dilated and the natural processes of repair are incapable of taking care of slight injuries. When inflammation occurs in the wall of a varicose vein (phlebitis) and clotting of the blood occurs within the inflamed vein (thrombosis), a tender, hardened or indurated bunch forms in or under the skin; this hardened mass is called a "phlegmon" and, if not treated, suppurates and finally produces an ulcer.

The first lesson the victim of an ulcer, of whatever size or nature, must learn, is that the ulcer is a sufferer's slow to learn, is that no known medicine, chemical or substance or ointment or salve or lotion or concoction or remedy or liniment or balm or ointment will cure it.

Let me give a false impression of hopelessness, let me hasten to add that every varicose ulcer and every other kind of ulcer (barring ulcers in which cancer has developed) may be cured. The ulcer is a disease, and it is a disease which can be cured by the use of months' or years' duration of just ordinary intelligent medical treatment. In the great majority of cases, the ulcer is a disease which is a misfortune which may come to anybody with varicose veins; to keep such an ulcer is the prerogative of those who believe it is just as well to "try" this or that remedy, or to let it be in the hands of a "doctor" who is it is to procure medical care. Probably the credulous victims would not so willingly experiment upon themselves as to try the various "cures" which I have just given, namely, that nothing but nature can or will heal an ulcer.

Booklet On Milk

Milk is not a beverage; it is a food. A quart of milk supplies as much fuel to the body as two pounds of potatoes or eight eggs. Bulk milk must be good or it is highly dangerous. That is why ten bottles of milk die to one baby fed by nature's method.

Dr. Milton J. Rosenau, professor of preventive medicine and hygiene at Harvard university and formerly director of the Hygienic Laboratory of the U. S. Department of Health, has prepared a booklet on the subject of milk.

You can obtain this booklet on your own health and that of your family.

Washington Information Bureau will secure a free copy of this booklet for anyone who sends two cents in stamps for return postage. In filling out the coupon, print name and address or be sure to write plainly.

RAMBLES WITH WISCONSIN ARTISTS

As the deer hunting season turns into its height, and interest swings toward the northern woodlands of Wisconsin, it is interesting to note the contributions which Forest artists in its dull seasons. Harshaw is in the Wisconsin School of Art, declared they had made a most unusual "find" in a little hauled and mended Leslie Pines, and his work since graduation has placed him among the foremost of the promising young artists of America. With these words the critics drew attention to the Wisconsin boy: "Upon him genius has breathed, if his work is evidence."

It is interesting to take a glimpse at the antecedents of this young man.

He was born in a hamlet called Harshaw, a fishing and hunting resort that boasts nothing more than a general store, a blacksmith shop and a bakery in its dull seasons. Harshaw is in Cassian township of Oneida county, 14 1/2 miles northwest of Rhinelander, and connected with that town only by the rougher roads of the Great Northwoods from babyhood until he was sent to school, was a little Indian lad of his own age. From Wah-do-pud-ab, Leslie learned the lore of the forest. He heard the tales of the "Thunder Gods" of the demons who bring the tornadoes and the whirlwinds of the horrid serpent who lives in the bed of certain black, fast-flowing streams. He learned of the south and west winds that rock the cradles of Indian babies, and bring the warmth so the maize may grow. He learned about the moon and the fairy maid who lives in it, and he knew the tales of the Great Spirit, who wants all Indians to be good and family guides the spirits of those who are worthy to his big white tent. It was with tales like this that the imagination of the sensitive child was fired.

He learned to love the animals of the forest and to love the things that tortured by trapping them. He grew to have a passionate love and sympathy with the wild things of the woods and to determine, in his childhood, to devote his life to protecting them from the hunters when he himself should be grown up. He would teach people to know them—love for them would follow.

This was the boyhood which has produced the Leslie Pines of today. He has a face as sensitive as a girl's; 12 once praises his work, the red bluish of modesty suffuses his face and neck, and reaches the very roots of his hair. And when he speaks of his boyhood and the tales of the Great Spirit, his lips tremble as those of a child reciting wrongs to his pet.

Since early boyhood he has made pencil sketches, mostly of the wild animals he has known in his native haunts. Without guidance or encouragement, he developed his art until he was producing such beautiful, life-like pictures that the outer world took notice.

It was while he was employed as a hotel clerk in Merrill, Wis., at the age of 13, that a Milwaukee furrier and art lover came to the hotel. By chance he saw some pencil sketches that Leslie had made—accurate, and amazingly artistic sketches of wild animals, and immediately made inquiries as to where the boy secured his skill. Leslie answered that he had never had any tuition, and that his education up to that time had consisted of a high school course and what he had picked up in something more than a year in the U. S. army—fury corps, for he had enlisted (being under draft age) in government service during the war period. The furrier, in the end, had a great effect on him in entering the Wisconsin School of Art.

Since then his progress has been rapid, and he is now recognized, not only as an animal painter of unusual genius, but as a rare sculptor. More recently, he has been devoting much of his attention to the modelling of heads—with beautiful results. His aim is to develop his power and skill toward modeling a character, a soul, rather than merely the outward lineaments of beauty. Like his painted animals, his sculptured heads are such as lend one to imagine a soul within, and to fancy, instead of the cold white form, the warm, pink, pulsing flesh of a living being. It has that quality for which true artists strive—it gives semblance of life to stone.

Busy Man's Sport Page

By FRANK SINCLAIR

F. C. GOKLEY, manager last summer of the Edgerton baseball club in the southern Wisconsin league, is again in the sport corner Wednesday afternoon. Gokley says Tobacco city club split about $40 a man on league games last summer and made some players in the league each special game, such as labor day and the fourth of July. He believes the last season and the one before were the best Edgerton has seen, and that under his management in the southern circuit the club has had its best year. In the past season Edgerton had an average of 12 players in uniform, the manager states, whereas the year before it was a question as to whether a full team might be placed in the field at each game.

THE METHODS under which the circuits were conducted had much to do with the success, he related, referring to the rules of conduct. He gave credit to newspaper publicity as keeping interest in the league and between the clubs. The rivalry, says Gokley, was unusually keen on the field of play, but the players in the several towns got to know each other so well that acquaintanceship extended beyond the diamond and entered into their daily lives.

NEXT SUMMER Mr. Gokley would like to see the business men of Edgerton take over the team, which last year was backed by the American league. "I think the next season ought to be a better one than the last," he stated. With some other towns anxious to get into the loop, such as Milwaukee, the Edgerton team has been recommended that perhaps the league might be extended to eight clubs in 1924. "It would be nice to keep all the old clubs in," he said, "those that helped put the league over, and add two more. With a few changes in the by-laws, I believe we could have a greater season next year."

Devils and Elks in Scoreless Tie

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE] Delavan — Wading through a sea of mud the Delavan Red Devils and the Elkhorn American Legion battled to a 0-0 tie in the Thundershield afternoon before a good sized crowd. The condition of the ground, forced both teams to resort to line plunging. The Thundershield team got within 20 yards of each other and the ball was exactly in midfield when the final whistle shrilled. The Devils tried a drop kick in the third quarter from the 35-yard line, but the ball failed to slip and they failed. For Delavan, Morrissey, Kinsford and James starred. Morrissey's tackling was the feature. Grebbly, O'Rourke, and Kinsford, the management is already getting lined up for next year.

Sorenson Wins Cross Country-Bostwick Raps 978

WINS THIRD TIME AND BREAKS MARK FULL 19 SECONDS

For the third consecutive time, Sven Sorenson, student at Janesville high school, won the annual Turkey day cross-country run of the local Y. M. C. A. Sorenson came in better than two blocks ahead of his nearest competitor in the 2.8 mile event and elapsed 19 seconds off his own mark of 1922 when he slashed 58 4-5 seconds off his pace of 1921.

Paula Barlow took the lead at the start with Kenneth Bick second. Sorenson had shoved a block ahead as the pack of seven turned into South Jackson street and headed over the bridge into Spring Brook. From then on it was certain he was to cross the tape first, but he continued at the same grueling pace, finishing in good form and with plenty of reserve.

THE BIGGEST crowd in the four years of the event witnessed the stirring runners, score and auto mobiles followed, the four distance artists around the course. Groups gathered at vantage points all along the way with a crowd of 100 at the end mark.

Bick, who was sure of placing in the first three, was forced to withdraw at two and a half miles. He was not a slither in his stomach. He was running a splendid show.

Rex Phillip, a seven miler who was looked upon to make a fine showing, was forced out at about two miles while running neck and neck with Harold Miller, who came in fifth. Phillip's legs knotted.

When Bick fell out, Harold Miller, who had been running neck and neck with Russell Smith, fourth, Smith, however, was setting an even pace and passed Miller at about two and a half miles.

Art Teal, who was second last year, finished first in the mile. This was a pretty race with a close finish. The half mile was taken by William Henke and the quarter by Ben Meek.

There were 42 final entries, and 27 starters.

Ratings Show Whitewater Deserves Rank of Second

Fort High Beats Whitewater, 33-0

Fort Atkinson — Fort Atkinson high school closed its football season Thanksgiving day, defeating Whitewater city high, 33-0. The field was rather slow, but the backs of both sides were able to break away at times.

Fort scored late in the first quarter when Roethlisberger ran 49 yards from scrimmage after an exchange of punts, and some line plunging by McNitt put the ball close to the line. Jones took the ball over. In the second quarter two brilliant runs by Roethlisberger were followed by a pass, Roethlisberger to Cornish, which netted 50 yards and a touchdown.

Fort gathered two touchdowns in the third period. The first came early in the quarter on two brilliant runs by Fort Atkinson men. Dornbach returned a punt 35 yards and Roethlisberger followed with a 25 yard run and a touchdown. The second touchdown came on the result of 35 yard run by Roethlisberger while the ball on the 10 yard line from where straight football took it over. Fort Atkinson made 10 first down runs to Whitewater's four. Fort completed two passes for a total gain of 60 yards and three were incomplete.

Chevrolet Team Is First as I-C League Finishes

Industrial league standings, including games of Wednesday, Nov. 28:

Team	W.	L.	T.	Pct.
Chevrolet	10	0	0	1.000
General	8	2	0	.800
Oldsmobile	7	3	0	.700
Pontiac	6	4	0	.600
Ford	5	5	0	.500
Chrysler	4	6	0	.400
Studebaker	3	7	0	.300
Lincoln	2	8	0	.200
Mercury	1	9	0	.100
Volvo	0	10	0	.000

The Chevrolet team won first place in the Industrial Commercial bowling league, which closed its 1923 season on Wednesday night.

The winthrop was a sensation. The Bestwick squad came through with a 978 count for a single game. The season's record among all leagues. The Knipps of the City league had rolled into a 967 count earlier in the week to take these honors, but were unseated but one day after.

The Bestwick boys also shot a 2-647 count in three games for second high of the season in the loop, the Gazette rolling 2,693 the same night for first high.

A banquet of the league will be held at the Meyer's hotel next Wednesday. A 12 p. m. attendance is expected. This year's prizes will be disposed of at that time and officers elected for next year.

"Y" BUILDING IS HELD INADEQUATE

National Worker Meets Officials on Plans for New Structure.

While no definite plans have been made, the visit of R. L. Rayburn, a member of the national bureau of the Y. M. C. A., who was here from New York this week, is the first step toward the probable erection of a new building in this city.

"It would never be possible to do the real type of nation-wide work in this city with the equipment which you have," is the statement of Mr. Rayburn in regard to the old building and equipment. He further stated that it was out of date and that there was a special need for larger dormitories.

Dormitory Is Crowded

According to local association officials, there are now 50 men living at the building, and six or seven new applicants want accommodations daily. On Saturday there are sometimes as high as 26 men who inquire for rooms.

While the officials are in possession of a list of desirable rooms in homes near the city, the system is said to be unsatisfactory, as most of those who inquire would prefer to live in the "Y" building if there were rooms.

Slides and diagrams of new buildings were shown to the board of directors, officials and a few others interested in the building. No definite conclusions were reached but several suggestions which may later be acted upon were given.

Built 20 Years Ago

The present Y. M. C. A. building was built 20 years ago, and was at that time the best obtainable, but according to those in charge, inadequate for present purposes.

According to the plans of newer buildings in other cities submitted by Mr. Rayburn, the gymnasium, boys' department and men's department are put on the ground floor, with the offices and work rooms for attendants in the center. This is said not only to centralize control, but to make it possible for one man to attend to all three during the forenoon. The building is little used. In the local building it would relieve two attendants from all day duty and considerably decrease operating expenses, according to the general secretary.

Outside Windows Provided

In the newer plans every room is constructed in such a way as to make the introduction of a window possible, either opening to the outside or onto a court. Several rooms in the local building have no windows, except those which open into the hall. The rooms constructed in this way go directly against the program of health which the "Y" is promoting, it is said.

Plans for the new building to be erected at Green Bay are among those submitted for inspection.

Sachtjen to Attend More Dry Conferences

Madison — State Prohibition Director Norman W. Sachtjen expects to attend prohibition conferences called at Eau Claire and Menomonie early in December, unless work of the state department interferes, he stated today. Director Sachtjen has just returned from a conference on prohibition enforcement held at Fond Du Lac, which Federal Director Perry and other enforcement officers attended. The meetings at Eau Claire and Menomonie are similar conferences called by local committees, the anti-saloon league and other agencies.

Orders for invitations and cards have been placed and they are expected to arrive within a month.

STATE OF KENTUCKY PLANS HOMECOMING

Homecomings of high schools, colleges, universities and cities are common, but seldom is there one of the proportions planned by the state of Kentucky for June 15-29, 1924. Mayor Huston Cain of Louisville sent a letter to the city manager of Janesville asking him for the names of all former Kentuckians who may be living in this vicinity so they may be given personal invitations to the homecoming celebration to be held in Louisville and throughout the state. The 1920 census showed 735,801 native Kentuckians to be living in other states, at least one in every one of the 2,857 counties of the country and efforts are being made to reach the great majority of them with invitations.

Coming Sunday to Be Observed as Golden Rule Day

At least 14 countries are expected to observe the coming Sunday, Dec. 2, as International Golden Rule Sunday, and the co-operation of local churches and other organizations in observing the day is sought in a letter received by City Manager Henry Traxler from Cleveland H. Dodge, treasurer of the Near East Relief.

The basic thought behind the plan is to re-emphasize the Golden Rule as the governing principle of human relationships, and it has been inaugurated in behalf of the orphaned children of Bible lands. It is stated that more than 100,000 children of the Near East, without father, without mother, and without any country of their own, are utterly dependent upon outside philanthropy for food, shelter, clothing and the means of life.

The Near East Relief asks that the people on Golden Rule Sunday have for their dinner approximately the simple fare that is served the children in Near East Relief orphanages, compare that with what is spent for the usual comfortable Sunday dinner, and then make as generous a thank offering as possible to the Near East Relief in order that these children may live and grow into useful, self-supporting men and women.

HAMBRECHT TO SEE NEW YORK SCHOOLS

Madison—An extensive inspection and investigation of schools at New York City, Rochester and Syracuse, N. Y., will be made next week by George P. Hambrecht, state director of vocational education, he announced today. Director Hambrecht will go to New York tomorrow and begin his inspection on Monday.

Director Hambrecht will attend the annual convention of the National Association for Vocational Education at Buffalo on Dec. 6, 7, and 8, and will speak before the convention on Dec. 7 on the Wisconsin plan of vocational education.

The inspection of New York schools will be made by Mr. Hambrecht in company with vocational directors of several other states under the direction of L. A. Wilson, vocational director for New York state.

GASOLINE CHEAPER IN WISCONSIN THAN IN EASTERN STATES

Madison—Statistics on recent reductions in gasoline prices throughout the nation place Wisconsin in a more favorable position than a majority of states, according to a statement today by Attorney General Elern.

The Milwaukee tank wagon price of gasoline is 12 cents per gallon and the Madison price 12.3 cents, compared with 15 to 16 cents in New York, Boston and Washington, Mr. Elern pointed out.

The tank wagon price in Wyoming, where much of the Standard Oil gasoline sold in Wisconsin is produced, is 13 cents and the price in Oklahoma, the source of much of the independent gasoline, is from 10 to 12 cents. Attorney General Elern said. "The price to the consumer at the service station is generally 2 cents above the tank wagon price. Wisconsin prices compare favorably with those of practically every state in the nation."

BETTER HIGHWAYS CUT MAINTENANCE OF AUTOMOBILES

Washington—Some of the most important ways in which highways have a demonstrable earning capacity, Secretary Wallace of Agriculture declares, are the potential savings in cost of operation, maintenance, and depreciation of motor vehicles.

It is estimated the annual fuel bill paid by motor vehicles amounts to $1,000,000,000, and the annual tire bill $450,000,000. The annual depreciation may be computed on an estimated investment of $8,767,500,000 in motor vehicles.

Although these figures are estimates, Secretary Wallace says they are a reasonable indication of the magnitude of the financial side of our motor transport equipment and it is evident that the operating cost will be affected materially by the general improvement of the country's highways.

WATSON HAT NOT FINALLY IN RING

Senator Won't Decide on Candidacy Till After Coolidge Visit.

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright 1923, by Janesville Daily

Washington—Senator James Watson of Indiana came out of the White House Wednesday with his hat in his hand and though the photographers begged him to toss it into a chukker ring they had drawn on the pavement, the Indiana senator haughtily held on to the emblem of his prospective candidacy.

"I haven't made up my mind yet," said the senator. "I am just looking the ground over. I haven't had a chance to talk with the president, and simply made an engagement today to see him next week for an hour or so."

"Are you going to discuss your candidacy with him?" the Indiana senator was asked.

"Yes, I'm going to talk over the whole situation. Maybe he will not want to discuss it but I can do the talking myself."

May Talk With Hiram

As the photographers surrounded Senator Watson and urged him to go through the motions of tossing his hat in the presidential ring, he suggested that the motion picture men ought instead to take pictures of Senator Medill McCormick of Illinois "in his evening pants." The Illinois senator had just preceded Senator Watson in the list of White House callers.

Pressed for some further information about his presidential prospects, Watson remarked that he was talking things over with his friends, and then he added jocularly, "maybe I'll talk things over with Hiram, too."

The Indiana senator has denied that if he were a candidate he would be a stalking horse for anybody else. He had been quoted as saying that he would try to capture the Indiana delegation, "so as to keep it away from Hiram Johnson."

After Vice Presidency

The suspicion is beginning to grow that Senator Watson is really after the republican nomination for vice president and that while he may go out for himself for president in the campaign he will throw his strength unreservedly to the Coolidge team if he is assured of support for the vice presidential nomination.

Indiana has often furnished vice presidential nominees to both the republican and democratic parties. Of course Mr. Watson for many years has had the idea of becoming president. But he is too shrewd a judge of political matters to interject his candidacy into the situation when the regular republican organizations most everywhere are already committed to the nomination of President Coolidge.

He certainly is not in disagreement with the major policies of the Coolidge administration. The story is told that Mr. Watson talked things over with President Harding a year ago, and Mr. Harding is reported to have said:

"Well, Jim, you are a candidate. Go ahead and make the race."

Mr. Harding let it be known that he was trying to corral the 1924 contest. Mr. Watson, however, went out after the conference and announced his support of Mr. Harding for nomination. The chances are he will ultimately be found supporting Mr. Coolidge, too.

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

Look Young! Bring Back Its Natural Color, Gloss and Attractiveness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and lustrant. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not shifty, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and lustrant. —Advertisement.

WILL HOLD EXAM TO PICK SEALER

Announcements are being posted by the police department for a public examination of applicants for the position of city sealer of weights and measures of Janesville, to be conducted at the local high school Saturday, Dec. 8, at 1:30 p. m. Notice of the examination is given by A. B. Gary, secretary and chief examiner of the Wisconsin civil service commission. From the list of successful candidates will be chosen a man to succeed Glen G. Snyder, who resigned last August. Mr. Snyder received a salary of $1,000 a year for part time services but the salary announced for the office in the future is $600. The examination will be open to men only, the minimum age being 21 years. Preferred ages are 25 to 45. A knowledge of arithmetic and elementary physics is desired and the candidate should be familiar with the Wisconsin statutes and regulations relating to weights and measures. Applications must be filed at the office of the civil service commission at Madison no later than Tuesday, Dec. 4. Application blanks and material regarding the law may be obtained from the commission's office in Madison. The relative weights given to subjects of examination will be: Questions on duties of the position, four; experience, training and personal fitness, 10.

Stout's Hopes High for Basket Season

Menomonee—A. C. Brown, coach of Stout Institute basketball squad and athletic instructor at that school for several years, has accomplished results in the athletic line. In 1921 the Institute tied Eau Claire for the championship of the northern normal conference. Last year the team had a 500 percentage, winning and losing four games each. There is every indication that this season Stout will finish well in the conference standings, as the material from which to select a team is even better than in years passed. Brown was coach at Botineau (N. D.) normal school before coming to Stout. Previous to that he was coach St. Paul.

A Wet Day Causes One-Third More Calls

Rainy days often cause one-third more telephone calls. On such days, more people remain indoors and use the telephone.

Likewise, hot days and very cold days mean that many more telephone calls will be made.

Snow storms, also, add to the problem of providing service. At such times it is difficult for the operators to get to work, while at the same time many more telephone calls are made.

And frequently bad storms tear down poles and wires, shutting off telephone service.

Uniformly satisfactory telephone service is our constant aim, but occasionally conditions arise which are temporarily beyond all human control. At such a time we especially appreciate the patience of our patrons until the situation can be met.

Papal Organ Nails Reports Current During Visit of Spanish King.

Rome—The Osservatore Romano, official organ to the Vatican, in a stirring article insists that "the holy see in no wise has abandoned its claim to enjoy the liberty and independence which is its right."

The statement is printed by way of protest against the deductions of certain newspapers that the visit of King Alfonso and Queen Victoria of Spain signified the final renunciation of papal aspirations for the recovery of the temporal power, and in view of the constant reiteration during the Spanish sovereign's stay of the idea that a settlement of the Roman question was imminent.

The Osservatore Romano denies that the Vatican, by granting permission to the Spanish royals to come to Rome, acquiesced in the abnormal situation created for the papacy by the events of September, 1870.

Prominent Mason Dies in Duluth

Duluth—William T. Patton, one of the leading Masons in the world, president of the Duluth Engineering company, died at 11 o'clock Thursday night at the family residence, 1101 East Fourth street, following a lingering illness.

Born in Germantown, Philadelphia, 63 years ago, Mr. Patton came to Duluth in 1881. He had served as city engineer. Mr. Patton was one of the 33rd degree Masons in Duluth. He was past master of the Palestine lodge No. 70, A. F. and A. M. He was a member of all Masonic bodies in the city as well as secretary of the Forest Hill Commerce association. He graduated from the University of Pennsylvania in 1880.

Mr. Patton was one of the four charter members of the King Solomon temple of England. The other three charter members include the names of the late Theodore Roosevelt, former President Taft and General Shryock of Maryland.

ALBION

Albion—Leelede Walton and Miss Brown, Battle Creek, Mich., are spending the week with Mr. and Mrs. George Walters, Roy Street, Chicago, over Sunday. The Missionary and Benevolent societies held a social Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. Carl Sheldon. Mr. and Mrs. Ira Humphrey visited Albion relatives Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Will McCarthy spent Sunday at the Robert Gahnes home, Madison.

Miss Mary and Miss Helen, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McCarthy, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McCarthy, Madison.

The Mothers' club of district 5 will meet at the John Thronson home, Tuesday.

EMERALD GROVE

Emerald Grove—The Ladies' Auxiliary held the annual bazaar and dinner at the church Friday afternoon. The Rev. Mr. D. P. Simpson, Cleveland, O., spent Monday at the home of the Rev. Frank Jackson. Mr. and Mrs. J. Francis and Mr. and Mrs. John Lester spent Friday in Deloit. Mrs. Carl Dahlberg visited in Rockford last week. Miss Vina McArthur, teacher at the Poyette high school, spent two days last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McArthur, Deloit.

Mr. and Mrs. George Porter and daughter, Helen, of Janesville, were guests Sunday at the home of John Hill. Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McArthur, Huron, S. D., announce the birth of a son, born Nov. 24. The Ladies' Auxiliary met at the church Thursday to plan the bazaar. A picnic dinner was served.

AVALON

Avalon—Mrs. David Dean entertained the Social Arts club of Janesville, Friday night. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Doubleday and daughter, Elizabeth, motored to Menasha for a week-end visit with relatives. Mrs. George Clark and Mrs. Roy Dean, Janesville, entertained Wednesday at a 1 o'clock luncheon for the Ladies' club at the home of Mrs. Dean, 208 Oakland avenue. Dorothy Poynton spent this week-end with her father, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McArthur, Janesville. Mr. and Mrs. Judd Cooper and son attended the Brown Swiss sale at the home of his father, John Cooper.

The Faithful Followers were entertained Saturday by Alice Clark, Janesville, at a 1 o'clock luncheon. 15 attending. Mrs. Joe Macha is recovering from an operation at the hospital. A number of people heard Miss Dorothy Thomas, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Thomas of Clinton, play a piano solo Sunday night broadcasted by radio from Northwestern university, Evanston, Ill.

Don't let that cough run on

It's much easier to check it now than after serious complications develop. Acting like Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey, it stops coughing quickly. Just those medicines that up-to-date doctors prescribe for loosening heavy phlegm and soothing throat tissues are in it—combined with the old reliable remedy—pine tar honey. Keep it on hand for all the family.

All druggists. Be sure to get the genuine.

DR. BELL'S Pine-Tar Honey

With a cry of terror the two crooks leapt into the old madman's time-lock of the sea— And the door lock snapped behind them, shutting them in forever.

Read of their thrilling escapades and of the final grim justice that overtook them at the moment of their triumph.

THE BOY'S CHRISTMAS WATCH
What a lot of boys have received their first watch at Christmas! And how many of them, when given a real watch, a watch while timepiece, have carried that watch a large part of their lives.
A man brought a watch in to be cleaned the other day. He said, "My father gave me that watch when I was fifteen, I have carried it thirty-five years. It cost about twelve dollars when new."
That was and is a remarkable instance, perhaps. It need not be so remarkable, however, if fathers this Christmas would give their boys watches as good as that one.
It is worth while to give the boy a good, durable, serviceable watch as soon as he knows the value of such a watch and needs one.
What argument for cheap watches would stand up in the face of that actual experience mentioned above?

GOT NEW THRILL IN BIBLE CLASS

Mike Thomas Gave New York Stock Exchange a Severe Jolt.

What's the use of being tedious? Our best readers become our funnest. Just as Wall street is considered to be a scrap-heap future, proclaimed state, stale, irretrievable, alone comes rapping, circumlocution, the ghost of the ghost, consorts, writes Henry Alloway on Barron's.

Pre-eminent governors of the Stock Exchange comprise its committee on statistics. In the past, by reason of supreme power to welcome or reject membership candidates.

The committee's calendar was almost clear when the secretary announced that to close the session the latest candidate for membership was awaiting the official survey. His name was Thomas, he was from Dallas, he was undertaking to pay $25,000 for a seat, if permitted. In the gentleman came. Sturdy of frame, aggressive shoulders, a massive head.

As he sat down by eyes that were already torches, he moved with dignity that might become heavy-shifting armor. Inquisitors averted their eyes.

"You are a citizen of Texas, Mr. Thomas?"

"The United States of America," not for protesting response, but just by way of natural postscriptum it sounded.

"Your full name?"

"My Grandfather's Name," Mike H. Thomas.

"Mike H. Thomas?"

"Sara, Mike! 'Twas my grandfather's name, I brought it to Texas 70 years ago, from up in Kentucky, from the same Lanes creek county where the Lincoln started; and Abe Lincoln were born just across the fence from one another—boys together, played, fished and trapped and loved together."

"And, Mr. Thomas, you understand, of course, that you must meet substantial financial requirements?"

"Anybody's account, gentlemen, in addition to your seat, as much as $100,000."

"Ten hundred, or 20—gentlemen, you're kidding me, aren't you?"

"What particular New York business do you propose?"

"Not a single new thing, gentlemen! I'm going to buy down in Texas just as I've been a goin' these 40 years or so."

"Then, Mr. Thomas, just why do you wish to join the New York Stock Exchange?"

"Well, I'll tell you—plain—like you ask me. You see, I already belong to about all the rest of the Exchanges in America, and that makes you feel that I've got the least bit of prejudice against anybody."

One member of the New York Stock Exchange's nuptial membership committee did not join in the spontaneous roar of responding laughter—he was absent.

"Mr. Mike Thomas," the committee chairman, cheerfully, "fraternize with you, telling me something about yourself, your experience, your career—just in your own way—for I'm sure we'd all like to hear."

"Anything, gentlemen—everything—if you think you can stand it."

Reminiscence of Roosevelt.

And that official group of the New York Stock Exchange listened to a tale of life-in-the-open such as not one of them had ever sensed before—gleams of newsboy self support, professional bias, the inviolable of ventures across the plains, of "pretties broncho-busting, of arrival to full cowboy potencies; of earnings patiently piled till there was a know him. When the World war thrust forth emergencies, he was a national problem solver. Years before he had played with the biggest and the cleverest of the market.

He won with W. P. Brown in 1903's rapid rousing sorties against world-wide depressive manipulation. But—as ever, conforming, he played a lone hand behind the Brown market but was not of the Brown legion. Brown ended loser; the free lance was largely richer.

Then Frank Hayne related. Prices ran higher and higher at his whim. Predecessor makers of cotton cord had relied upon world crop scarcity, upon market art, thence, the whipping of sentiment into forcefulness. Hayne had a simpler prescription. Just plain money power was his reliance; and he wrought marvels—for his white-hot courage to give away to Mike Thomas in the profligate independence role.

And he was equipped for braver battling still the very day following when Daniel Sulley whirled. Sulley won and won—and, in a splendid final over-play, collapsed. Mike Thomas rode to the top and counted his first million.

Practical Optimism.

Not all of this did Mr. Thomas detail to his hosts in the governors' room of the Stock Exchange, but enough they gathered to realize that one unique in earned good fortune was under official consideration.

Other things he told, and manifestly in those other things was the core of the narrator's heart. Experience's caustic distilling into philosophy, a relative naturalness that seemed the very of a stylist, conversation familiarities, idiom of the market, the unctious of religious phrasing—such were individual accents.

"If you ask what I am, I suppose many folks would sum me up off-hand as Mike Thomas, speculator. But I am a few other things."

"I am an optimist. I am an optimist in business. I am an optimist on my fellow men. Above everything I am an optimist on the United States of America. I am optimistic enough, folks, to be a republican in the state of Texas."

"As an optimist and a Texan, I am trying in my own simple way to be a practical Christian man. I am a church man. I've built some churches, some, hope to find a lot more opportunities. One doctrine in my religion is trying to give the other fellow a lift. I didn't get the college chance myself and because I realize that possibly I may not see quite clearly all the good that such education can do, I and myself kind of 'run it' occasionally to help a college or two along—to one down in our state I've given $100,000 so far. And I missed the train I arranged to take on a whole trip up north, came at the last minute a good friend not hold of me and spent my entire time showing how I could do a certain thing—only to see a school plan for a father-son."

"It's the poor fellow who is

LAPLAND PROSPERS AS MOTOR PUBLIC INVADERS HIGHWAYS

Abisko, Swedish Lapland — Santa Claus will move southward this year with an unusually fat and sleek lot of reindeer. There was an abundance of snow last winter, and rains have been frequent throughout the year in the mountain ranges over which the Laps herd their charges. Consequently the moss, the scanty grass which survives the climate of the land north of the Arctic Circle and the small birch and shrubs have provided the reindeer with more than the average amount of forage.

The increase of tourist travel through Lapland as a result of new automobile roads has brought prosperity to many Laplanders. Travelers are now leaving the excursion ships at various points in the Norwegian fjords and inspecting the land of the midnight sun at close range. Touring agencies have arranged camps on many picturesque lakes overlooked by glaciers, and venturesome mountain climbers are wandering far away from the beaten trail.

Like American Indians, the Laps are becoming more and more commercialized in the line of travel.

struggling alone, though, that grips me most. Never was a cotton corner in this world, gentlemen, that could measure up to the genuine human thrill that's bred of the giving of a lift to a chap who thinks he's down and out—and isn't."

"The girls' business is not all there is in religion—I know that; but any religion which is our job—meanin' our blessing—I reckon can stand a considerable lot of it. I am continually told about how unsympathetic charity does hurt instead of good; and that if a man's heart hands out sugar and not these poverty and worse are being cultivated. That may all be so. But I'm just selfish enough to like the good old-fashioned fisherman joy that I myself have out of it."

"Kind of apropos, don't you think, this dispatch that's just arrived from the home folks who seem to have been all the time trying to get along the likes of you? 'A friend, they telegraph—and I rather suppose they would like to have you know who's who backing me—a friend is just the same. You tell Wall street to take these for the sentiments of the 500 members of the Mike Thomas Bible class.'"

"Suppose a fellow in trouble hasn't been quite all right—suppose even he's bad—I didn't make him that and what's that got to do with my seeing that he gets a meal and a lift into a new chance? Say, if I turn away from that chap, knowing he's downright needs a handkerchief and a pocket stake, and after a while I come up with my blessed old mother, who I firmly believe's already gone to heaven, wouldn't I have one hell of a time explainin' Mark me; who knows—she taught me I'm for helping—damn the auditing."

"Yes, I have some money. But, folks, it's got no chance in the world makin' faces at somebody else's misery."

"Maybe I'm something of a crank. Am religious cranks intelligible on the Stock Exchange?"

"You may not be exactly crowded, soothed one of that once traditionally frappe committee on admissions."

CEMENT SHIPMENTS INCREASE

Washington—An index of building activity is shown in shipments of Portland cement for the first nine months of the year, September production was a record.

STOCK EXCHANGE OFFICERS AT TENSE

At attention. Almost unannounced the vote of the narrator brought members of that vibrancy which was Theodore Roosevelt's—the tonal Teddy—the Teddy sentimental.

Would he go on? More there was apologetic—early in the twenty-ton broker, cotton merchant, cotton exporter, and on—his name growing; in potent identifications. Every cotton market of the world came to know him. When the World war thrust forth emergencies, he was a national problem solver. Years before he had played with the biggest and the cleverest of the market.

He won with W. P. Brown in 1903's rapid rousing sorties against world-wide depressive manipulation. But—as ever, conforming, he played a lone hand behind the Brown market but was not of the Brown legion. Brown ended loser; the free lance was largely richer.

Then Frank Hayne related. Prices ran higher and higher at his whim. ## SLAIN MAN'S DAUGHTER, SEVEN YEARS IN ORPHANAGE, IS GIVEN FORTUNE

Leona Coyle.

Miss Leona Coyle, of Indianapolis, Ind., is through making tires for "rich gay cars." Last believed worthless left her by her father, who was murdered in Ardmore, Okla., 10 years ago, has made her an heiress worth $250,000 with a $30,000 annual income from two oil wells. She spent seven years in an orphanage after her father's death.

New Books on Drama Arrive

Drama has come to the front in the new books recently added to the public library collection. Those which have attracted most attention among critics during the last few weeks, and have now been placed in circulation, here are Owen Davis' "Rebound," "The Adding Machine," by Elmer L. Rice and "Red Bird," by Prof. William Ellery Leonard of the University of Wisconsin.

The last named is worthy of special notice because its scenes deal with Wisconsin history. The story is of a young Indian chief, Red Bird, who found the supposed wrong done to his own people, which he had himself so terribly avenged, was but idle gossip. It is in four acts, and has been commended by many authors and critics, among them Zona Gale.

"Rebound," which was awarded the $10,000 Pulitzer prize for the best American play, describes a group of northern Maine small-town people, whose faults and virtues are the result of their environment. As a product of the new Theater Guild of New York, "The Adding Machine," by Rice, is one of the first volumes of the new Guild library to be published, and is said to be good.

COLLEGE BOYS SHUN PARENTAL VOCATION

Chapel Hill, N. C.—More than one-half of the 750 members of the freshman class at the University of North Carolina are wholly dependent on themselves for support, and are working their way through college as self-help students, according to Dean Francis F. Bradshaw.

A study of the matriculation cards made by the dean reveals also the students are not following in the footsteps of their fathers in choosing their life work.

Ninety-five per cent of the new men are selecting different occupations, indicating North Carolina's change from rural to industrial life.

MISS CLELAND LEAVES LOCAL CHURCH $2,000

The First Congregational church of Janesville, is left $2,000 under the will of Miss Jane Cleland, town of Janesville, which has been filed in the Rock county court for probate. Miss Cleland died Nov. 10, 1922, leaving an estate of $15,000, including real estate valued at $16,000 and personal of $2,000.

None of Miss Cleland's immediate relatives survives and after providing for $200 for Oak Hill cemetery, her will provides that the residue shall go to George C. Youmans, Janesville, a life-long friend of the family. Mr. Youmans entered the probate.

$2,000 estate was left by J. W. Fetherstone, Milton, who died Nov. 12, according to the petition for probate filed by Chairman John A. Paul of Milton. Total estate is estimated at $10,000 and personal estate of $3,000.

A widow, Harriet Fetherstone, and two sons and two daughters, are left.

Appointment of Edward C. John F. Baumann, W. Baumann as executor of the estate, is asked under the will of Mrs. Hannali Baumann, Janesville, which will be probated in the county court. Mrs. Baumann died Nov. 5.

$7,500 real estate and $300 personal property.

MAKING HUMANS TO ORDER

Now the professors of eugenics are saying that in a few hundred years there will be no such institution as the family. The race will be perpetuated under the direction of a board of scientists. Life will be a laboratory affair, with synthetic methods prevailing. If there is a shortage of six-foot blonds in any section of the world a call will be put into the propagation board and laboratory incubator system will be invoked. This may make for efficiency, but we are proud to say that we will not be here when it happens. When they begin to make our statesmen with a vacuum tube and a blowpipe it is time we were in our shrouds.—Los Angeles Times.

OFFICIALS' TRIPS DECREASED.

Manila.—Trips to Manila by municipal officials from the provinces at government expense have been ordered eliminated. Only when such officials are expressly called to the capital on important business are they to be permitted.

SCHOOL EDITORS MEET IN MADISON

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]

Madison—High school editors from the middle west states were gathered here today for the opening of the fourth annual convention of the Central Intercollegiate Press Association at the University of Wisconsin. Nearly 1,000 delegates were expected to attend the various sessions.

Governor Blaine was scheduled to deliver the opening address to the junior newspaper workers. President Birge of the university, and Dr. Willard G. Elyer, director of journalism, also were on the program. For addresses, immediately after the opening session at 1 o'clock the delegates divided into seven different groups for round-table discussions on various phases of high school newspaper work, high school magazines and annual problems. Instructors at the university and experts from private establishments will lead the discussions.

Three series of classes with different leaders were to be held during the afternoon. Chief among the leaders were to be Director Elyer and Prof. H. H. Herbert, director of journalism at the University of Oklahoma.

Tonight the annual convention banquet will be held after which the Gibbons-Neff of the Dill and Collins company, will discuss the importance of paper. A carnival vaudeville will be staged at music hall for the delegates, followed by a dance and motion picture program.

Tomorrow's outstanding feature will be selection of winners in the national contest of high school papers and magazines conducted by the association and announcement of the winners. This will be the closing convention number.

GERALDINE BARRED FROM 2 CHURCHES

Diva Will Sing in Atlanta Auditorium as Pastors Balk at Concert.

Atlanta—Geraldine Farrar will sing in Atlanta tonight in the city auditorium. With the doors of two church auditoriums closed against her, it appeared with late last night that the diva would be forced to make good her promise to "sing in the streets" in order not to disappoint an Atlanta audience.

The city auditorium had been engaged by Teel high school for a minstrel program for tonight but those in charge of the entertainment withdrew in favor of Miss Farrar following a conference with Charles J. Foley, her manager, and postponed the minstrel show to a later date.

Miss Farrar was scheduled to arrive in Atlanta this morning, and had arranged to greet Atlanta friends upon her arrival.

Miss Farrar appeared in Atlanta three years ago in "Zaza." Her acting in that performance "made it impossible for a church to permit the use of its facilities for her appearance in concert," according to a formal statement issued by Dr. John W. Ham, pastor of the Baptist Tabernacle.

Why TRY to Treat Piles from the Outside?

You Can Not POSSIBLY Reach the Real Trouble With Ointments, Salves, Dilators or Other Local Treatments—They May Ease for the Moment, But Can Never Heal Where They Can Never Reach

Don't Talk Operation—

Until You Have Tried Our Easy, and Sensible Treatment.

No matter how severe your case may be, or of how long standing. The old, stubborn cases, that are supposed to be "incurable" are the very ones we like best to write to us—for we can nearly always count upon those people to be our best friends and boosters after this treatment has made them well.

Neither does it matter where you live nor what your occupation may be—we are as near to you as your mail box, and if you are troubled with piles, this method will give you quick relief and within a short time you will have joined the ranks of the thousands who write us that they feel themselves to be permanently cured.

We want you to understand that the Page Method is DIFFERENT from all others and that it is the ONE MOST RELIABLE and SUREST remedy for the home treatment of piles. Send the coupon NOW while you have the matter in mind and this page before you.

Don't let anyone persuade you to submit to an operation until you have at least given this internal method a trial and a chance to cure you. A few days' delay will not make your case much harder for the surgeon, and you may not need him at all.

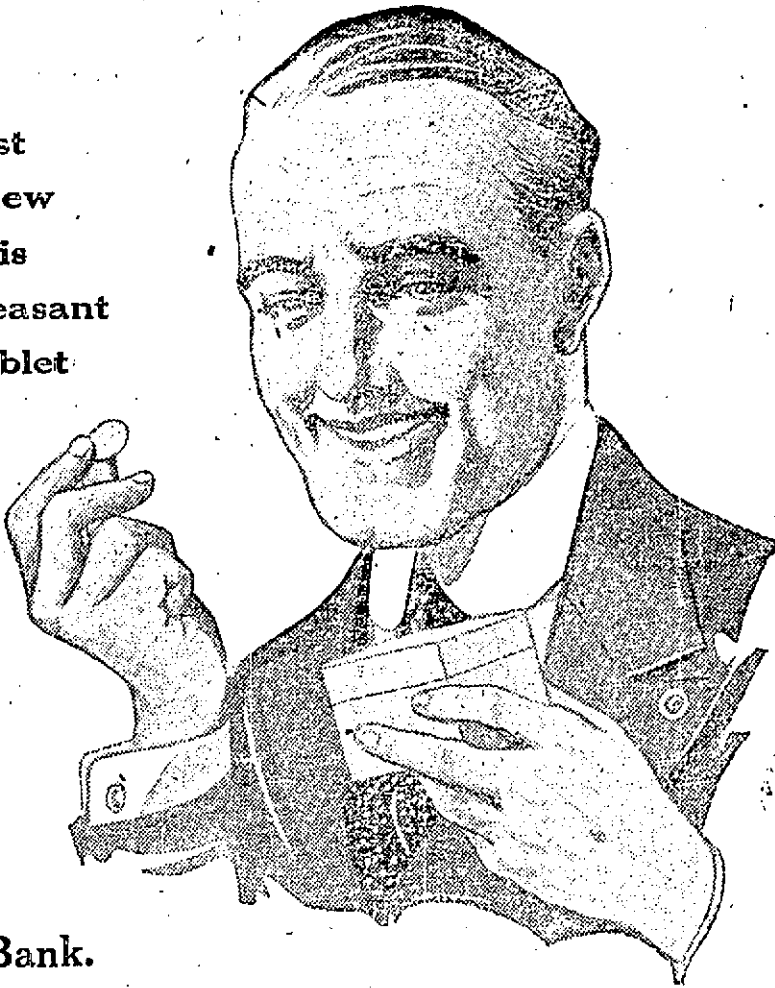

Money Can Not Buy Many Pleasures for the Man or Woman Suffering from Piles.

There are Times When the Certain Relief Afforded by the PAGE PILE TREATMENT Is Worth All the Money In a Bank.

There is only one sensible, sure and Safe way to treat piles and prevent them from coming back every few weeks to annoy and pain you again. This is by permanently healing them with the Page INTERNAL Treatment. While the Page treatment includes both an ointment and a bowel regulator, we tell you frankly and honestly in our directions that these will give but temporary relief—But that PERMANENT Benefit will come from the Page Pile Tablet. This is a very pleasant tasting tablet and you will enjoy chewing one or two after meals. This System for the Cure of Piles has been sold for More Than a Quarter of a Century and is endorsed in Thousands of Letters Reporting the Cure of cases that seemed beyond hope of relief:

We Can PROVE Every Statement That We Make.

This method of treating Piles, from the INSIDE instead of the OUTSIDE is not a new idea or something that has not been given a thorough test. In another place on this page we quote from a letter received from a patient who took our treatment 18 years ago and has never had the slightest return of his trouble.

The one BIG recommendation of this method of treatment is the PERMANENCY of the benefits derived.

Another case speaks of having been healed after six torturing years of bleeding piles, and this was accomplished by our trial package alone.

Surely if you are ever troubled with piles, you will send the coupon from this page and receive the trial treatment.

Every One Has A Kind Word to Say of The Page (Internal) Pile Treatment.

Was About to Undergo Operation

Mr. E. R. Page, 2817 Polk Ave., Camden, N. J.

Dear Sir:—You will have to excuse me for not answering your letter before, but I wanted to convince myself of the merit of your treatment before replying.

Now in regard to the treatment, I cannot praise it too highly.

After 7 months of continual pain I was surprised how quickly your treatment worked.

I tried several different kinds of treatments and I found them all wanting.

I was on the verge of going to a doctor for an operation when I saw your advertisement.

It appealed to me because to cure piles you have to know what causes them.

It is now 6 months since I have taken your treatment and I have not had any trouble since.

I personally recommend this treatment to all pile sufferers.

Wishing you the best of success, I remain, gratefully yours,
HARRY SCHLICHTER.

1824 Madison Ave., Kansas City, Mo.

Cannot Praise Too Highly

E. R. Page Co.

Dear Sirs:—You are more than welcome to use my name and recommendation of giving some poor sufferer as much relief as you gave me.

only expected relief and your remedy cured me after suffering with the torture of hemorrhoids for over 30 years.

I feel like another man. I cannot praise your pile remedy too highly.

Respectfully yours,
N. H. D. V. S. Co. 1, Lock Box D, Danville, Ill.

Something Wonderful

E. R. Page Co., Marshall, Mich.

Gentlemen:—I received your sample of the Pile remedy and was very well satisfied with it. But as my brother had some of your remedy, he let me use it, so I did not have to send for any. Your remedy has cured me of my Piles. It sure is something wonderful. I also thank you for the sample. Your remedy helped me and I will use it as a very wonderful remedy.

Yours, truly,
LOUISE ZISHKA, Lakefield, Minn.

Had Both Protruding and Bleeding Piles

Mr. E. R. Page, Marshall, Mich.

Dear Sir:—I am glad to say your medicine has helped me and the last package has cured me. I have been two months without any medicine and have done a lot of hard work since.

It is a wonderful remedy. When I sent for the first treatment I was not able to be on my feet and suffered terribly. It was the protruding and bleeding Piles together. At night I could not rest and I had given up to have an operation; but read of this remedy and so I gave it a trial. It has saved me from a lot of suffering and also many dollars. I can't say enough to praise the Page Pile Method. I am glad there is a remedy for piles, as I do not think much of those operations. I am feeling fine and glad found out about your wonderful medicine. Will always recommend it.

Yours respectfully,
MRS. NINA YOUNGBLOOD.

Little Boy Cured in a Week

E. R. Page Co., Marshall, Mich.

Dear Sir:—After I had given three of the best doctors in this town a chance to do something for my little boy, they all failed and told me the knife was the only chance for him, so I let them all go and never did any more for the boy until I tried your treatment. It was not a week till his piles left him and they have never showed any since. Have recommended your treatment to others and they say they are going to order. I am doing all I can for you.

Yours as ever,
J. S. McCLAIN.

Had Case of Fistula Cured

Mr. E. R. Page.

Dear Sir:—Before I tried your cure I tried a number of remedies, but no use. Now, thanks to you and your cure, I have every reason to believe that my Piles and Fistula are cured. I have been troubled with piles for over 35 years. This is the second time I have had Fistula. At times the pain was awful, but I have had no return of it now for some time.

Have recommended your cure to people in Spring Valley and expect you will hear from them. Thanking you, I remain,
Very truly yours,
WM. B. FINK.
